CALLS FOR ACTION

Pastor of Littlefield Church
Congratulates Sheriff and Suggests Other Things.

Rockland, Sept. 25.
To our Sheriff Corps:—
Congratulations Boys! That's what I call good work. Go to it and count on me for one to be behind you to the finish with what little I can do. We folks have grumbled and growled and probably have hindered a lot more than we helped. I say you did a splendid piece of work, and if you want to know, we appreciate it. And you too Judge you passed it to them good. It's time they realized that they'd got to quit. I'll say by the time the 500 bucks are passed up and they've thought it over for six months they'll see things differently.
Say boys, I was told the other day that all the grocery stores and confectionery shops in the city were running an every day gambling business in the form of a certain little "punch board" contrivance. I was further told by the same party that somebody who must have had authority to say such things said "Go ahead and use your board nobody will trouble you." If the above statements are only twenty-five per cent true I say for one that it's a serious situation and calls for action. In proportion as the statement increases in truthfulness the seriousness of the situation increases. Now I can't go investigating these things, but I want to say that I know where some of these boards are, and I know a few of those who are going to pay the price of this wrong some day. Say, boys, you've got the law on your side, and if I can produce the goods you shall have public sentiment on your side too. Let's have a clean up in general!

[Rev.] Oscar W. Schart.

"DEEP SEA" DOINGS

General Manager Feeney is in New York on a short business trip.
Shipments yesterday morning aggregated 140 boxes (about 8,000 pounds) of Chilpak and finnan haddie, going to Pennsylvania and Ohio.
The Snipe arrived Saturday with 150,000 pounds of haddock and 100,000 pounds of cod. It was an 8-day trip and Capt. Daniel Maher and his crew were well satisfied with it.
The Medrie will go in commission this week, making four trawlers that are being operated by the Deep Sea Fisheries, Inc. The two in addition to those above mentioned are the Plover and Coot.
The new smokehouse, with a capacity of 90,000 pounds a week, is turning out quantities of the famous Ambassador brand, which is destined to have a big run this season. A shipment was sent to New Orleans Saturday. Another Saturday shipment was 70 barrels of herring via the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., to Boston.

THE MOONSHINE CASES

Three More Respondents
Found Guilty—Cristo and
John Go To Jail—Burch
Case Continued.

The aftermath of last Friday's raids by Sheriff Thurston and his deputies was found Saturday forenoon in the arraignment of four respondents before Judge Miller in Rockland Municipal Court.
No defense was offered at this time in the case of William and Alfred Mallett, at whose home on South Main street the deputies seized such a large quantity of mash, as well as liquor and paraphernalia. Each was given a jail sentence of six months and a fine of $500, with an additional sentence of six months in default of payment. Both appealed and furnished bail.
Gilbert Gallant answered to the charge of search and seizure made at his lunch room on Tillson avenue, and took the stand in his own defense. The flour barrel with the false bottom and trap-door, was suggested to him, he said by a similar arrangement which he had seen on shipboard while cook of a sailing vessel. The quart of liquor found in the bottom of the barrel by the deputies belonged, according to Mr. Gallant, to a boarder named Douglas, who was in court and did not deny the soft impeachment. Douglas said he had hidden the bottle so that Mr. Gallant's children would not find it.
Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., counsel for Gallant, again raised the technical point that a complaint made to a municipal judge cannot be signed by a recorder. Gallant was found guilty and given the same fine and jail sentence that had been imposed upon the others. He appealed and furnished sureties.
The case against Charles Burch of Park street was continued to Wednesday morning. The respondent given that time in which to produce or name the party to whom he claims to have leased the barn in which the alcohol and bottling paraphernalia were found. Mr. Burch said that the lease had been made in his absence by his wife. Mrs. Burch described the man as small and dark—possibly an Italian. She did not know his name or where he resided, except that he was up there.
George Cristo and Peter John who were found guilty on search and seizure complaints Friday are taking their medicine in Knox county jail. Being without funds they will probably serve one year.

THE FIRST AND THE LAST

Football Season Opens With Soft Victory For Rockland
High—The Baseball Season Closes.

Rockland High School opened her 1922 football season auspiciously Saturday by defeating Belfast High 33 to 0. It was not to be expected that the team would be in top form, and there were naturally little points to give tongue to the side line critics, but the fact remains that Coach Grosby has a fast, heavy, hard-fighting team, with a real punch.
At no time was Rockland in danger, for Belfast, in spite of superior weight, proved to be a feeble antagonist. Later in the season the up-river team may show fight, but Saturday there was no contest. Plaidstet, the husky Belfast fullback, punctured Rockland's line for four first downs; but they were always nullified by some "bone" play following.
Read was by far the most effective Rockland back, gaining almost at will. H. Ludwig also proved a good ground gainer, though a bit excitable. Both Rockland ends were very effective. The line will be fully up to standard when whipped into shape. On the whole the big crowd went home well pleased and feeling that if Coach Crosby had told his men to "snap into it" they could have doubled the score.

ROCKLAND 6, ALL STARS 1

Local Baseball Season Closes With
"Bill" Foster Boss of the Situation.

A ball game arranged on the spur of the moment, and after the season was supposed to be closed, was pulled out at Oakland Park Saturday afternoon, under weather conditions that were absolutely ideal, and though there were strong competing attractions, such as a football game and golf tournament, the crowd at Oakland Park was nearly of holiday proportions.
Saturday's duel was between the Rockland Locals, which recently won the Knox county championship; and the Knox County All Stars which cherished somewhat the notion that they could beat the "Champs"—Foster and all.
Certain it is that the game was anybody's up to the 7th inning, when Cunningham showed his first sign of cracking under the strain.
Rockland was first to score, the run coming in the 4th inning after Cottrell had singled and Sullivan's hot grounder had gone through Derham.
The All Stars did not score until the 6th, although they had passed up glowing chances in three preceding innings when the run finally did come it was the fruit of misplays, for Billy Foster had not yet allowed the semblance of a hit. There were many who thought Derham safe at the plate, but the ump saw it otherwise, and the morale of

TOLD ABOUT FRANCE

F. C. Norton, Returned Y. M.
C. A. Worker, Entertained
Epworth League Sunday Night.

A variation in the usual program of the Christian Endeavor meeting at the M. E. church Sunday night found Frank C. Norton, recently returned from France, as the speaker. In the half hour allotted, the speaker started his hearers with him back in July, 1918, when he embarked as a Y. M. C. A. secretary.
Mr. Norton opened a branch "Y" at an aviation base first, and experienced there his first airplane ride. The descent was much like dropping 600 stories in an elevator.
He established a hotel at Bordeaux and was in charge over two years. This was run particularly for American sailors and usually had a full crew. One of the chief diversions was to sit around the fire and "yarn." The speaker recalled one, swallowed by gullible Englishmen, that American trains run a thousand miles without stop and are boarded by means of succession of moving stairways, each going faster than the other until the final one is going 100 miles per hour from which one steps aboard the train.
The French have some difficulty in speaking English. A young French lady asked a bandmaster to play "There will be a warm climate in the ancient village this evening." There are 4,500,000 bicycles in France, comparable to 1000 in Rockland. The street cars are operated by women and accidents are very common. This is not because of women operators but due to the regulations of traffic. The cars consist of a regular car and trailer, both entrances being at the middle and always crowded. The result is frequent amputations under the middle wheels. The steam roads are operated much like ours except for the three classes. Second class is most commonly used. Arrests are often made for beating fares and one day a traveller came into Mr. Norton's hotel complaining of poor feed in jail where he had been sent for evading fare. "You can't tell me anything about jails. I've been in dozen of them" said Mr. Norton. "You don't say," came the reply. "How did they get you so often?"
The American school boy don't realize what a snap he has or how lucky he is to have all supplies provided. The French school runs from 8 until 11:30, 1:30 until 5, and often until 7—mainly parochial schools, though public schools are maintained. The cost of living in France is high while wages are low, and the ordinary family has a hard time to get along. In spite of this the average Frenchman is dressed better than the average New Yorker, due to the fact of his saving his best suit. The temperature last winter was below freezing only 12 days, and the lowest of all was 21 above, yet the Frenchmen nearly froze. Mr. Norton had to tend five soft coal fires, and thus is qualified as an expert the coming winter.
In the open forum which followed great interest centered in the rate of exchange and the financial condition of France, and Mr. Norton was in a peculiarly advantageous position to discuss it. An American paid in American dollars has a great purchasing power of French commodities. The question of the relation of France and Germany and the real feeling of the French toward this country and the changing of the many streets named for President Wilson back to their original names proved interesting.
By this time the allotted half hour given the speaker had doubled, and the interest had in no way waned. The questions popped like corn over a hot fire and only necessity held the meeting from lasting until morning.
It was with extreme regret that the audience heard Mr. Norton bring his remarks to close with the statement that the longer a man is abroad and the more he sees of foreign countries the prouder he is to be an American of America.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Whatever your occupation may be and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.
—Charles Elliot Norton
JOCOSA LYRA
In our hearts is the Great One of Avon
And we climb the cold summits once built on
By Milton.
But at times not the air that is rarest:
Is faintest,
And we long in the valley to follow
Apollo.
Then we drop from the heights' atmosphere
To Heracles,
Or we pour the Green home, grown blander,
Of Lancelot.
Or our coolest nook in the shade is
Where Pines is,
Or we toss the light bells of the mocker
With Locker.
Oh, the song where not one of the Graces
Tight-laced—
Where we wore the star, Masses not starchy,
But archly—
Where the verse, like the piper a-Maying,
Comes playing—
And the rhyme is as gay as a dancer
In measure!
It will last till men weary of pleasure
In measure!
It will last till men weary of laughter
And after!

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

Rockland, Maine, Sept. 26, 1922.
Personally appeared Frank S. Lydell, who on oath declares that he is president in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that the issue of The Courier-Gazette of Sept. 23, 1922, there was printed a total of 5,364 copies.
Before me, FRANK S. LYDELL, Notary Public.

GREAT THINGS—Fear the Lord, and serve him in truth; for consider how great things he hath done for you.—1 Samuel 12:24.

The Emergency Tariff Law, which was passed May 28, 1921, and which is to be superseded by the Fordney-McCumber Bill, fulfilled an important mission, as shown by the official record of imports for the fiscal year which ended June 30 last. Prior to its passage, farm prices and farm products were depressed. A cursory study of imports for the fiscal year 1921 compared with 1922, shows that we imported $27,755,000 worth of farm animals for the former, compared with $5,850,000 for the latter year. Of breadstuffs we imported in 1921 over $134,000,000 worth, compared with $28,000,000 in 1922. Eggs, $7,232,000 and $2,742,000; raisins, $6,775,000 and $1,936,000; peanuts, $2,370,000 and $495,000; meat and dairy products, $58,000,000 and $32,000,000; wool, $78,000,000 and $45,649,000. Carpet wools were left on the free list and there was a considerable increase in imports of this class. Altogether our imports of these seven products for 1921 totaled $314,000,000 compared with $116,672,000 in 1922. The total value of imports of these articles for the last fiscal year prior to the war, 1923, which was under protection, was $80,000,000. The Emergency tariff as a stop gap measure was of great value to the farmer, and the consumer suffered nothing appreciable by way of increased prices.

Most reassuring is the report received by Gov. Baxter from Andrew P. Lane, the State's fuel director, who has been attending a conference with the anthracite operators in Philadelphia. Director Lane was able not only to wire Gov. Baxter that Maine will receive 60 per cent. of last winter's requirements, but that the price will be no higher than it was last winter. This means in all probability that the citizens of Maine must use soft coal for 40 percent. of its heating, but with great quantities of wood being put on the market there is no reason why even that percentage should not be obtained. The anthracite will not come until winter is well underway; meantime it behooves every careful householder to husband his resources. In Massachusetts the State fuel director has asked the people not to burn a pound of coal until Nov. 1. Peace again exists in the mining regions but there is an enormous shortage in the supply as the result of the prolonged period of idleness. Nobody appreciates this condition better than President Harding, who has requested the entire personnel of the country's railways to join in "a concerted drive for 30 days, to provide the transportation facilities necessary to meet the coal emergency."

There are Victory Notes outstanding to the extent of $1,838,000,000. Of that total $906,000,000 have been called for redemption on December 15, 1922, and the remaining $932,000,000 reach maturity on May 20, 1923, when funds must be at hand for their payment. This is but an example of the huge refunding problems constantly confronting the Treasury Department. Outside the financial columns of the press, little appears to acquaint the country with what Secretary Mellon is doing, yet probably no officer of the government is called to make more momentous decisions than he. His management of the national debt of $22,000,000,000 is of vital concern to the taxpayers, and it is safe to say that he has already saved them hundreds of millions of dollars in interest charges alone. When Republicans took control of the government Treasury certificates of indebtedness bore interest around 6 per cent. Sound Republican economic policies and expert handling of finances by Mr. Mellon have brought the rate down to 3 1/2 per cent. the taxpayers saving the difference.

There has been a deal of curiosity to see in what manner the country would receive President Harding's veto of the bonus. As reflected in the editorial utterances of leading newspapers throughout the United States the opinion seems to be quite unanimous that no other logical course was open to the nation's Chief Executive. "The bill would donate but not finance," says the Washington Post, which adds that the President's clearcut logic exposes the injustice that would be worked upon the American people by legislation "which smacks so plainly of an effort to curry favor, regardless of consequences." The New York World says that President Harding's veto is the most courageous and most statesmanlike thing he has yet done; that he has met the issue without flinching or apologizing. Southern sentiment finds editorial reflection in the Baltimore Sun, which is of the opinion that the country "is relieved of the fear of a paralyzing burden."

With the rail and coal strikes settled the country again finds opportunity to take account of stock on other matters concerning the general welfare. The result is gratifying in the extreme. Billions of money are being invested in vast industrial undertakings throughout the country; railroads are ordering rolling stock more freely than for a number of years; hundreds of millions of dollars are going into the construction of highways; and in the South alone the enterprises projected since the first of January aggregate nearly $400,000,000. "There is no longer room for the pessimist," says the Manufacturers' Record, reviewing these facts. His day is gone.

Rockland High School's football victory over Belfast High Saturday was only in the nature of a preliminary, and was not, of course, what might be termed the "acid test," but it should be accepted as an augury of the good results which are hoped for under Submaster Crosby's regime.

At the packing plants of the Deep Sea Fisheries, Inc., there are already evidences of increased activity. Those in a position to know do not hesitate to prophesy a busy winter for this big concern.

Our September Sale continues Tuesday and Wednesday, inclusive. We have replaced such merchandise as was sold during the first two days' sale and can assure many big bargains. Sale continues TUESDAY, SEPT. 26th and WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 27th, inclusive.

NORTON CLIMBING

Rockland Boy Winning New Honors With the Western Electric Company.

To learn the telephone business from the ground up—from the digging of the first post-hole to the installation of the most intricate mechanism—is the task assigned by the Western Electric Co. to Edward L. Norton of Rockland. Mr. Norton is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Norton who have lately returned from France. His education in the public schools of this city was supplemented by a year and a half at the University of Maine. Then the war intervened and for two and one-half years the young man was plunged into some of the busiest activities of the U. S. Navy. A two-years course in electrical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology followed and young Norton graduating with honors, was one of 18 from a class of 160, who was assigned to the original research department of the Western Electric Co. These men out of that big department were selected for the privilege of 12 weeks intensive study, salary continued.

And so it comes about that the young man is learning the telephone business—not the casual knowledge that is to be obtained from association with one, two or three departments—but the telephone business from A to Z. The course will include study in a practical telephone school, "Shooting troubles," going as an observer with gangs laying cables, visits the factories in Connecticut and New Jersey where insulated cables are made, attending lectures—in fact, getting an insight into all that enters the construction and operation of a modern telephone system.

The opportunity is one which comes to but few young men, and it has come to Mr. Norton because of the unusual ability he displayed at "Tech," and after joining the staff of the Western Electric Co.

WON COLE TROPHY

But Col. Ross Was Given a Good Battle By Last Year's Champion — Other Winners.

The annual golf tournament for the solid silver Cole trophy at the Rockland Country Club was won yesterday afternoon by Col. Harry F. Ross, after a gruelling match that was decided on the 34th hole. It has always been the custom for 36 holes to be played on the final championship match. The morning's play resulted in Col. Ross being four holes up. At the end of the third nine his lead had been cut down two and it was anybody's match up to the seventh hole of the fourth nine.

Runner-up was Louis E. Wardwell, club champion of last season, and it was a decidedly good bid that he made for the beautiful cup, which has been the cynosure of golfer's eyes for the past four years.

Col. Ross played consistently good golf throughout the entire tournament. His driving was particularly good, and evoked many an enthusiastic comment from the large gallery which followed the final match.

Beautiful weather prevailed throughout the entire tournament, and all the participants are ready to term it an unequalled success.

A particularly close match was had yesterday by Emory Howard and Lawrence MacAllister, who played off the final for the beaten eight. Honors finally went to MacAllister, with a victory of three up, with two holes to go.

Harold E. Jackson defeated William C. Bird Saturday in a match to determine the winner of the non-qualifying eight, and Arthur F. Lamb wins six golf balls for shooting the low net qualifying round.

FALL EXCURSIONS TO BOSTON

Eastern Steamship Lines Announce Exceptionally Attractive Rates for October

Whatever your bent or inclination, Boston is a very interesting place to visit these crisp fall days. Stores, amusements, fairs, historic sights and relics, they are all there and made doubly alluring by the special low round trip rates just announced by the Eastern Steamship Lines.

For the first time in a number of years you can go to the Hub, between October 3 and 31, inclusive, at a cost for the round trip averaging a little more than the ordinary one-way rate. These special tickets are good returning fifteen days from date of sale.

Boston is a place you can visit again and again and still find interesting. There is always something new, something different, something you have not seen before. Many get much enjoyment out of the excellent theatres and movie houses. Others delight in roaming through the big department stores, where they can always be sure of finding the latest and best. This year the Annual Food Fair to be held October 8 to 15 in Horticultural Hall will attract many while the big Brockton Fair promises many unusual features.

The opportunities for sightseeing there are no end. The city is honey-combed with buildings and places, ancient and modern, of world-wide renown. The Public Library, the new Art Museum, Harvard University, the Custom House, the State House, Charlestown Navy Yard and the Bunker Hill Monument are some that you should not miss. The Old State House, Faneuil Hall, Old North Church, Old South Church, Paul Revere's House, Quincy Market and the sites of the Boston Massacre and the Boston Tea Party will cause you to reflect on the deeds of your ancestors. When you tire of these, merely wander along the Charles River Embankment or in the Fenway through the stately dignity of Beacon Hill or Commonwealth Avenue will bring refreshments to body and spirit.

Round about Boston itself are ranged a host of delightful places to visit, all easily reached by sightseeing cars and automobiles. Lexington and Concord are perhaps the most famous objectives but Plymouth is of even greater historic significance. Cambridge, Salem, the Blue Hills, Marblehead, Gloucester and Middlesex Fells also offer rewarding trips.

October is an ideal month in which to travel, Boston is a fascinating destination and current low rates present an exceptional opportunity.

Gold Seal Congoleum Week

The Floor-Covering Sale of the Year
BEGINS MONDAY, OCT. 2—CLOSES SATURDAY, OCT. 7

This Sale is offered by the Congoleum Company in every City in the United States on these days. Don't miss this opportunity.

This sale is a money-saving opportunity you can't afford to miss. You will have no difficulty in finding GOLD-SEAL ART-RUGS that are exactly suitable in pattern, coloring and size, for any rooms in your home that need new floor-covering. Or, if you prefer an all-over floor-covering, you will find many attractive designs in GOLD-SEAL Congoleum By-the-Yard.

Waterproof—Sanitary—Durable

You need only to read this partial list of Congoleum's advantages to understand why this modern, sanitary floor-covering is preferred to woven rugs in millions of American homes.

DESIGNS: No other low-priced floor-covering reproduces so artistically the beautiful rich tones of fabric rugs as does Congoleum. The patterns win the admiration of housewives everywhere.

EASY TO CLEAN: Just a light mopping leaves the smooth, sanitary surface spotlessly clean—the bright colors gleaming like new. No tiresome sweeping or beating is necessary.

NEEDS NO FASTENING: Congoleum lies perfectly flat on the floor without fastening of any kind. It never curls or "kicks-up" at the edges.

Satisfaction Guaranteed

All the Gold-Seal Congoleum included in this sale is fresh new goods, and is fully guaranteed by the Gold Seal pledge: "Satisfaction Guaranteed or Your Money Back." This Gold-Seal appears on the face of all genuine Congoleum. Look for it when you buy. It protects you absolutely.

Only a Few More Days

Remember, Gold-Seal Congoleum Week ends on Saturday night. Then these bargain prices will be withdrawn. Make your selections at once. Don't allow this great money-saving opportunity to slip by without taking full advantage of it.

INSPECTING BALLOTS

Democrats Are Seeking To Unseat Sheriff Thurston and Mrs. Rich, County Commissioner.

Raymond E. Thurston, sheriff of Knox county; and Mrs. Mary Perry Rich, a member of the board of county commissioners, have been notified to appear before the Secretary of State in Augusta today, where an inspection of the ballots cast in Knox county at the September election will be begun.

A recount was not unexpected in the case of Mrs. Rich, who has an apparent majority of only one vote over Marcellus M. Condon of Rockland, but there had been no intimation of such steps in the case of Sheriff Thurston, whose majority over Charles A. Carleton of Camden was 96, according to unofficial returns.

Today's proceedings are simply in the nature of an inspection. Ballots which are in dispute at the close of it will be put aside for decision by the Supreme Court in the event that a formal recount is asked for.

Charles Schofield is having a week's vacation from M. B. & C. O. Perry's.

The department was called out by a chimney fire at Carleton F. Snow's residence, Talbot avenue, yesterday. Small damage.

Senator Hale will hold a preliminary competitive examination Oct. 23 for the selection of two candidates to fill two vacancies at the Military Academy at West Point in 1923.

Mrs. Rose Horgan of Boston, who has been making her home in Nobleboro for several months, is employed at the soda fountain in Weymouth's candy store.

George M. Simmons believes he has the acme of perfection in the newest model of the Reo Company—the Reo Phaeton, sport model. Harry Hall brought one in Sunday night from the Reo State agency in Auburn.

The highway from Mirror Lake to Bowley's Flats is reported to be in very bad condition. Expensive repairs to a Rockland man's truck were necessary yesterday as the result of one of the several accidents which have occurred in that locality of late.

A Wyandotte hen, scarcely beyond the pullet stage, and small for her size, is earning her grain in the flock at the Baptist parsonage in Martinsville. One of her eggs, measuring 6 3/8 x 7 3/4, was exhibited at this office yesterday by Mrs. M. S. Howes.

Miss Maude Knowlton, who has been having her annual vacation, resumed her duties with the Camden & Rockland Water Co. yesterday. Said vacation was marred by a touch of the gripe.

W. C. French was down from Belfast last night to attend the Elks meeting and get acquainted with his new granddaughter Ruth Adelaide Packard.

Rockland had a mounted policeman for a few minutes Saturday, when Patrolman Edwin U. Price sat astride of the Moxie horse in front of the Thordike Hotel. The combination attracted a great deal of attention.

A double cucumber so perfect as to be practically one, was laid on the cucumber editor's table yesterday. It came from the garden of Fred S. Rhodes in Cribhaven, and was picked by his housekeeper, Mrs. John Bass.

Wilbur C. Cross, one of Uncle Sam's carriers didn't have a letter for anybody on his route yesterday, but he did carry an uncommonly broad smile. The occasion of it all was a new arrival at his home Sunday night. The newcomer is a girl who will doubtless feel a bit lonesome and embarrassed when she finds that the stork left a boy on each of four visits to this home.

During the week beginning Oct. 8 (Doubtless Oct. 10 or 11) a fair will be held by Pleasant Valley Grange at its hall at the head of Talbot avenue. The program will include a baby show (of course) and sales of fruit, flowers, aprons, fancy work, cooked food, preserves, pickles, etc., etc. and a baked bean supper, followed by a dance. These fairs are a popular institution, and are uniformly successful. Committees will be announced in a later issue.

As an evidence of the fact that Gov. Baxter and State Fuel Director Lane moved promptly in the fuel situation F. R. Spear will today or tomorrow receive a large load ($50 tons) of anthracite coal.

Erastus P. Rollins, a former North-end merchant, dropped dead at his home in Warren Sunday. He was a member of local Masonic and Odd Fellow bodies. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

When Joseph Souci, alias William Le Blanc, was discharged from State Prison Saturday his liberty was very brief. Waiting at the door for him was Edmund Cheney, a Massachusetts official, to whom the sheriff's department turned over extradition papers. Souci was returned to a Massachusetts penal institution from which he had broken parole.

When the train pulled out of the Lower Station at Lewiston station the other night it carried not a solitary passenger. It is said that the instance has no parallel in Lewiston's steam train history. It reminded a Bath railroad man of a trip on the Knox & Lincoln Railroad some years ago when there was only one passenger on the train from Rockland to Bath.

Marston's Orchestra will open the dancing season in Haven's hall Thursday night.

Fred Cheyne chauffeur of the Combination Chemical, who has been spending part of his vacation in Massachusetts has resumed his duties.

The lobster dinner given at Rockledge Inn, Spruce Head, Sunday for the benefit of roads in South Thomaston, was attended by fully 200 persons. The thoroughly satisfactory sum of $78 was taken in.

The W. C. T. U. will meet on Friday at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. G. M. Brainerd, 31 Masonic street. Reports from the State convention will be given and plans for the winter's work discussed. A large attendance is desired.

The horse that has been attracting the most attention along Main street for several days is without question the mechanical vitality of the latest Moxie car to hit this city. It is a very clever advertising stunt and the imposing creature has been tethered for the most part in front of the Thordike. The driver is George Debow of Boston, who has been "covering" Union Fairs for the Moxie people the past 14 years.

Architects representing the new owners of the local theatres have been in the city the past few days. The patrons will be immensely pleased to know that new seats are among the contemplated improvements at Park Theatre. The present chairs have never found favor.

Rockland Encampment will have a meeting Wednesday night. A big gain in membership is being looked for this fall under the new non-beneficial plan adopted at a recent meeting. At the Wednesday night meeting plans for a membership campaign will be worked out and oyster stew will be served. Members are asked to make special effort to be present.

Stephen H. Cables, Jr., is confined to his home on Limerock street with a broken ankle, which he sustained Friday during football practice at Broadway grounds. An x-ray picture taken at Sibley Hospital proves it to be a very bad break and will mean several weeks confinement for Steve.

The dance for the benefit of a worthy but unfortunate citizen will take place in Haven hall next Friday evening. Marston's orchestra will furnish music, and the use of the hall has been contributed by Mr. Marston. Through the kindness of several persons the expenses are being kept at a minimum.

At the State Small Arms competition, to be held in Auburn this week, there will be represented several Coast Jersey members from Rockland and vicinity. A local contingent from this city under the leadership of Capt. R. W. Brown left yesterday noon, as well as one from Vinalhaven under the direction of Capt. L. B. Dyer. The Rockland men were: Sgt. J. I. Sullivan, Pvt. Percy Brown, Pvt. Richard Bartlett and Pvt. Alfred Wildecorn of the 105th Company. The Vinalhaven men were: Pvt. Sewell Davis, John Morton, Robert Wardwell and Alden Miller. The contest is to last four days and is to include every type of rifle and pistol shooting for various cash and trophy prizes.

Passengers on the morning train out of Rockland Saturday were given a thrill when the train grazed a Massachusetts automobile containing two persons at the crossing in Woolwich known as the Dyke crossing. The railroad track at this point is in clear view of motorists for a distance of 500 feet. The auto was going West and the train coming East when the near accident occurred. The driver of the car evidently was rattled for he slowed down when approaching the track and the auto was just grazed by the cow-catcher of the locomotive, and pushed aside and hung over the edge of the highway with two frightened people on board. The forward axle of the auto was bent and one of the forward tires damaged.

There are entries galore for the Union Fair races Wednesday and Thursday. Tomorrow's card includes the 2:35 class, 14 entries; 2:25 class, 21 entries; and 2:15 class, 27 entries. Thursday's races are the 2:24 class, 25 entries; the 2:14 class, 22 entries. The purses are of a character that will meet with competition.

Represented by the entries are W. F. Flagg, Belfast; Fred Gray, Belfast; R. V. N. Bliss, Bluehill; Parker Hinkley, Bluehill; L. C. Bryant, Auburn; Percy Saunders, Bluehill; John H. Wincapaw, Lacey; Victor Walton, Unity; Jesse V. Benner, Waldoboro; P. H. Bond, Waldoboro; Charles Wells, Pittsford; H. H. Blaisdell, East Greenland; J. P. Morang, Haverhill, Mass.; Royal R. Hall, Damariscotta; H. C. Buzzell, Belfast; A. M. Stratton, Albion; George R. Palmer, Waterville; J. R. Clark, Waterville; Jesse E. Staples, Belfast; P. L. Hupper, Stockton Springs; E. I. Ireland, Bluehill; E. S. Grindle, Bluehill; W. S. L. Graham, Oakland; Asa Grant, Bangor; Y. E. Gushue, Camden; R. Davis, Waterville; E. J. Clement, Boston; M. C. Pease, Belfast. The track is in fine shape and general improvements have been made on the whole plant. The management has supplemented the race cards with some first class vaudeville. You know that motto: "There's always something doing at Union Fair."

King Solomon's Temple Chapter will have a special meeting Thursday night for work on the Past and Most Excellent degrees.

Oct. 10 is rather late to be playing baseball in Maine, but it's a safe bet that there will be a crowd of fans on deck in Lewiston that day, when George Sisler, the St. Louis Browns' star, plays there with a team selected from the big leagues. Opposing this stellar array will be a team made up from the Augusta Millionaires and Lewiston Taxes. Buckland, a former Rockland player, will pitch for the Maine team, and Sukeforth, a Knox county boy, will catch. George Sisler has just been voted the most valuable major league player of the season, and all the fans will want to see him.

The Rockland Chamber of Commerce has received word that G. A. Abbott of Lancaster, Ky., recently engaged as executive secretary, is not coming here, having found a more advantageous opening nearer home. The association is investigating several other candidates.

Danny Sullivan, cruising around Vermont on his annual vacation, has found time to remember all his associates on The Courier-Gazette staff with souvenir post cards. The one received by the writer represents a view of Lake Champlain from Red Rocks. A motor car, possibly Dan's, is basking beneath autumn foliage, and the occupant is looking admiringly out across the blue sheet of water, the view of which is somewhat eclipsed by a couple of "chicks" leaning against the fence railing. "Oliver won't have anything on me," writes Dan.

Special orders, No. 141, issued from the adjutant general's office direct 1st Lieut. Harrison P. MacAlman of Rockland to appear for examination before the board of which Major William M. Hicks is president. Lieut. MacAlman was recently promoted.

George E. Gay of Augusta, well known in this city, and Department Commander of the Maine Grand Army, has sold his machine shop in Augusta to Maxwell Case of Shaftsbury, Vt. Mr. Gay will retire, after having conducted the business since its establishment 44 years ago.

E. B. Hastings' Dry goods store will be represented at Union Fair this week, for the 26th consecutive year, by Albert M. Hastings, who will have a fine line of suits, coats, sweaters, etc.—adv.

The Priscilla tea room will be kept open all this week to accommodate people attending Union Fair.

Supt. Blodgett is doing his part toward the High School benefit dance at Oakland tonight by contributing hall and cars after the dance.

Everett Blithen is enjoying a two weeks' vacation in this city. He is studying at the New York Art School.

A. C. Jones has sold an Apperson sedan to Mrs. J. S. Cushman of Portland.

The New York Giants won the championship of the National League yesterday, by defeating St. Louis, while Pittsburgh was dividing a double-header with Brooklyn. This settles, what the fans have long expected, that the World Series will again be played in New York.

The meeting of the woman's department of the Knox-Lincoln Farm Bureau will be held at the home of the chairman, Phyllis Tolman Morse, 18 Leland street, tomorrow afternoon. The meeting will begin at 1 o'clock; subject, "Laundry Hints," and a regular family washing will be done on an electric washing machine. All members are asked to be present.

Rockland Lodge of Elks held a live session last night, when several applications for membership were received and four candidates were initiated. The new members are Horace E. Lamb, William B. Mitchell, Albert C. Jones and J. Maynard Brennan. The new steward, Mr. Withington of Melrose, Mass., was successfully introduced through the medium of a roast beef supper which everybody praised.

Rockland will be represented at the national convention of the American Legion in New Orleans next month by Earl ("Jake") Alden, who goes as one of the delegates from Maine. Mr. Alden leaves Oct. 12 and will join the other members of the Maine delegation in Portland. The party is due in New Orleans the 15th, and will spend five days in that city. Convention sessions will be held in the forenoon only, the remainder of the day and each evening being given over to sightseeing, and a series of delightful entertainments furnished by the Crescent City. Small wonder that "Jake" is looking ahead to a grand vacation.

"Building a Righteous State" is the theme of the 53d State Sunday School Convention and Institute, which will be held at the First Congregational church in Augusta, Oct. 17-19. Greetings from the State will be extended by Gov. Baxter at the Tuesday evening session, Oct. 17. Among the distinguished speakers who will have part in the very extensive program are Herbert C. Mayor of Boston University, Miss Mary E. Abernathy of Indiana, Rev. H. E. Trull, D. D. of Philadelphia, Prof. H. U. Leedy of Boston University, Miss Lucy Stock Chapin of Hartford, Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D. of New York and Dr. Owen C. Brown of Philadelphia. There will be a pageant—"The Light of the World"—on the closing night.

These Are Splendid Shoes For Autumn

When the air turns crisp, and leaves blow and darkness falls so early, you realize that the lethargy of Summer has departed; for nature is sending her cool quickening winds to put new life into your body. This is the time to put new life into your feet—by wearing Cantilever Shoes. Then, in delightful comfort, you will fully enjoy the opportunities of a new season.

LIGHT AND FLEXIBLE
 The flexible Cantilever arch, fitting snugly but easily under your instep, gives just that degree of support you are on your feet, walking, standing or running—new life, indeed, like the bracing tonic of Autumn.

Easy fitting lines, conforming both to the natural shape of your foot and to the conservative mode of the hour, make Cantilevers so comfortable to wear and so trim to look at.

SPLENDID QUALITY
 Fine quality leathers—black or brown kidskin, tan calf—soft and pliable with that smooth texture which characterizes the better grade of shoes; excellent workmanship by highly skilled labor in a factory which devotes its entire capacity to making and improving the flexible arch shoe; reasonable prices with assurances of good service—all these are offered to the purchaser of Cantilever Shoes. But above all, you will most enjoy the comfort, the neat appearance, the light and spry youthfulness that you will gain this Autumn by making Cantilever Shoes your first selection.

Please note that there is only one make of Cantilever Shoes, their high reputation won through meritorious service—every pair is trade-marked for your protection—and we are the exclusive selling agents for this city. We cordially invite you to come in and see them, as early as possible while our stock of sizes is complete; for last season the demand was so great the factory was unable to supply as many Cantilevers as the public wanted to buy. Cantilever Shoes are made to fit all widths and all sizes of feet; different heights of heels and different toes to suit your individual taste; always fitted with attentive care.

Cantilevers for men and women.

DRY SENTIMENT UNDATED

So Says Mrs. Quimby, State President, In Annual Address to W. C. T. U.—Cause For Rejoicing.

"The cry that prohibition has brought bootlegging is not well supported," Mrs. Althea G. Quimby, president of the Maine Woman's Christian Temperance Union, declared at the annual convention which was opened in North Berwick Wednesday.

"We had bootlegging under license, perhaps as prolific as under prohibition," she continued. "Because of appetite and because we still have the illicit and dangerous home brew. But we are told that is on the decline."

"We rejoice that, notwithstanding the frantic efforts to defeat 'dry' congressmen, and other 'dry' officials in the recent primary elections in the several States, no dent has been made in the present dry sentiment of Congress. The results in our own State were not satisfactory."

"Here in Maine, as a border State, we have our own peculiar problem. But in the State as a whole, the law is being enforced to a commendable degree."

Mrs. Quimby expressed regret that there seems to be a desire in some quarters to repeal the direct primary law. "The time is past," she said, "when Maine or any portion of Maine can be controlled by the old-time political boss. The women will not permit such an intolerable condition."

She urged all "white ribbons" to attend all caucuses and primaries as well as elections. In opening her address Mrs. Quimby expressed her joy at the outcome of the fight against liquor interests in this country during the past year. She rejoices in the passage of the Willis-Campbell bill, and the fact that in the recent primary elections in several States, the beer and wine candidates were overwhelmingly defeated. However, she states, "It behooves the temperance people to be ever alert at the polls. Here we can show ourselves true Americans, defenders of the Constitution. That the 'twists' are desperately in earnest and vigorously at work, must not be minimized."

She reports that the United States Senate Judiciary Sub-Committee accuses liquor interests of secretly controlling newspapers, and advancing money for political campaigns. Through their 30-odd organizations they openly state that they will support any "wet" candidate at the polls, regardless of party or of moral issue.

"We are facing a crisis," says Mrs. Quimby, who likens it to the crisis which followed the ratification of the Constitution in 1789. The period now following the 18th Amendment also calls for leaders, great men, and women as well, and constant alertness among our citizens, to carry out the purpose. "The possible return of the sale of light wines and beer cannot be looked upon with too much seriousness," she states. "It would undo all the good work of the Volstead Act. It would bring back the saloon, and all the evils which attend the use of alcohol in any form."

She named many things upon which alcohol has been found by science to have a bad influence. Among them are military life, education, muscle and nerve activity, and accuracy in any endeavor. Because of these facts, the thinking men and women of the nation, including the churches and educators, are all opposed to the return of "beer and light wines."

From a survey by the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association of 158 colleges, representing 142,000 students, 136 favored prohibition. Ten were in definite, eight unfavorable and four endorsed the theory, but not the laws. To prove that the women of the nation are supporting prohibition, Mrs. Quimby named eight or 10 women's organizations which are strongly in favor of it.

Some of the benefits to the country of three years of prohibition are stated. Of 20,000,000 drinkers 17,500,000 have quit drinking. Only 25 per cent of the quantity of liquor formerly drunk is now consumed. The drink bill of the country has been reduced $2,000,000 a year. Arrests of drunks have decreased 60%. Twenty per cent of the jails have been closed, and the number of alcoholic patients in insane asylums and charitable institutions are fast decreasing. The year 1921 was the healthiest, happiest year in the history of the United States. A marked decrease in deaths from tuberculosis is due in part to prohibition.

Mrs. Quimby intensified the need and duty of all agents of Law and Order to enforce liquor laws, especially in Maine, where "smuggling" must be suppressed. She quoted President Harding in his message to the country to uphold the 18th Amendment, that Maine, the pioneer prohibition State, must be a leader in this glorious crusade. Her regret that the direct primary law is not more securely supported, was mentioned, also the importance of women voters in the right kind of government.

She spoke of the importance of training children in temperance work and of the opportunity of Temperance day in schools. The influence of publishers, through magazines, newspapers and periodicals, is great. The act of Keith's theatres, in censoring all prohibition jokes, is highly commended.

In closing, the speaker quoted our Chief Executive: "No double standard can be tolerated in regard to a person's moral life. Today, men must rise to the same high moral standard they insist upon in women."

Mrs. Juliette H. Oakes of Woodford, State superintendent of the departments of medical temperance, anti-prostitute and health gave her report, in part as follows:

Patent medicines containing from 10 to 25% alcohol create and increase the taste for strong drink and in making a fight against such medicines the department of Medical Temperance is helping law enforcement. Patent medicines would have no vogue if the alcohol was eliminated, neither would its removal affect the curative value of such medicines. Two well known patent medicines are made without alcohol, a mixture of glycerine and water being used as a preventive.

Sec. of Labor Davis recently declared that "there is necessary for working men to give them strength," but the testimony of scientific men and leading physicians of much experience among beer-drinkers is "that it kills quicker than any other liquor and surgeon, hesitate to perform surgical operations on beer drinkers, which they would undertake unhesitatingly on others." Philadelphia druggists in 1920 voted to remove all alcoholic tinctures from sale; this has also been done in some Western cities by the druggists aided by the board of health.

Col. W. G. Beach of the U. S. Narcotic Service, in reply to the statement that prohibition has caused people deprived of alcohol to turn to narcotic drugs, says "the records of our office show nothing of the sort; it is not in the nature of things that alcohol addicts should turn to drugs, the physical effect desired by the two addicts is directly opposite."

One of the objects of the department of Anti-narcotics is to help enforce the anti-narcotics laws, and as cigarettes create an increase in the taste for alcoholics we are also helping to enforce the prohibitory law. We rejoice over the passing of the Jones-Miller bill—the Anti-narcotic bill—which if enforced will stamp out the illicit use of narcotic drugs the world over. Miss Mulhall, a deputy commissioner of narcotic conditions in New York, says "in our city clinics hundreds have told me that they began the drug habit by giving drugs to those in their care."

We wonder what the effect has been on the patients. Eight million dollars for schools, $21,000,000 for cigarettes, cigars and tobacco spent in our State in one year; 1200 boys beginning the habit daily in this country and Charles B. Towne says, "the cigarette habit is the greatest menace devastating humanity today because it is doing more than any other vice to deteriorate the race."

The craving for alcoholics is dependent partly on a lowered vitality; improvement in health, personal and public, will gradually lessen this craving and in this way the department of health helps enforce the law. America is said to make the most careful study of questions of health and the greatest effort to improve health conditions of any country in the world, but the vital statistics for the first quarter show an increase of 2% in the death rate the country through, including Maine. Why is this? Does the increase in cigarette smoking have anything to do with it or the increased use of cosmetics? ($1,500,000 a year). The U. S. Public Health Service says, "of all the many and varied abuses of drug products there is none in which fraud and wanton disregard for human health and even life is so clearly shown, as in connection with the manufacture and sale of so-called cosmetics. Many of them have been analyzed and found to contain wood alcohol, lead acetate, silver nitrate, corrosive sublimate, zinc oxide and other dangerous substance which health authorities say produce neuritis, paralysis, some forms of insanity as well as stomach and kidney troubles."

TRIBUTE TO W. O. NORWOOD

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

Something more than the brief notice which appeared at the time of his death seems due to one so well known as the late W. O. Norwood of Hope, or "Will" or "Bill" Norwood as he was called. A man of strong physique, forceful personality and mingled qualities he made some enemies as well as many friends, and had a wide circle of acquaintances who will not easily forget him.

Ambition was one of his marked characteristics—the desire to get ahead. It is easy to see how this motive must have been stimulated and strengthened by the early experiences of life. His father, Abram Norwood, a prosperous farmer, who once owned the W. J. Robbins farm in Rockville, while Will was yet a young boy a great calamity befell the family. The father broke his hip and became the victim of alleged malpractice. His doctor, before the days of the X-ray, denied that the bone was broken and by his treatment so aggravated the condition that the man suffered tortures, and was a cripple, dependent on crutches and a wheel chair, during the last 18 years of his life. The family fortune was soon consumed and there was no financial redress.

At about 13 responsibility for the family fell upon Will. A sister had married and left home. He became the sole dependence of his parents, though in later years his father could earn a little by working on wood in his wheel chair. As a child Will had been taught how to make a little garden for himself. Now he had to provide for the family, under his father's direction, and with such help as his mother could give. Besides attending to their own place, he earned what he could by working out at the going wage of 50 cents a day. Neighbors were disposed to help him, but this always went against the grain with the boy. It was the happiest day of his life when he felt himself able to decline help. Instruction and practice made him a good farmer. Early he added a field to the family acres. From one farm he came finally to own three, with lumber and blueberries, and a farm on a large scale. Few men in the town, if any, have grown bigger or better crops, or marketed them with more success.

He was a man whose energy seemed boundless. The day had hardly hours enough for him, or the week days. He did not spare himself early or late; could not realize perhaps that others might not be so indefatigable, or have the same zeal in executing his plans. One outlet for his activities was not sufficient. Besides being a farmer, he was a butcher, meat-seller, hunter, fisherman, guide, held town offices, had a camp and boats to rent, and provided meals and lodging if called upon. He has said that he never locked the door at night as some men are accustomed to come for early fishing might arrive late. In a literal sense the latchstring was out. And he was never too busy to accommodate another.

A true lover of nature, the isolation of his home in winter never troubled him. Every season was full of interest. Probably no one living is so familiar with lake, woods and hills. He had grown up here, lived here the year and the years round, and gone over the ground until he knew it by heart—beasts, birds, trees, plants, soil. He had a great fondness for animals, especially horses and dogs. He liked human nature, too, and had his own standards.

Condemned to die almost a year ago, when, as he said, he thought he was just ready to live, he faced the future fearlessly in spite of his suffering. The wide, free world had narrowed to a sick room but it breathed courage and cheer, was almost constantly brightened by flowers and the presence of some of his many friends. So he received them, making the most of his brief time, like a man soon to leave on a journey.

PORT CLYDE

The Quarterly Meeting of the Lincoln United Baptist Convention was held in the Baptist chapel in Port Clyde, Sept. 20. Although the weather was dull and threatening a large number of people from the various churches in the district attended: Rockland, Thomaston, Camden, Rockport, Warren and Tenants Harbor being well represented. Everyone enjoyed the fine program which was as follows: Morning—10:30, devotional services, Rev. Griffith; 10:50, The Place of Evangelism in our Church Program, Rev. Andrew Young. Afternoon—1:30, devotional service, Rev. M. S. Howes; 1:50, The Program of the Convention, Dr. E. C. Whittemore; 2:45, Training the Young People, Mrs. O. W. Stuart; 3:15, The Prayer Meeting, Rev. J. M. Remick; 3:45, The Rural Problem of the Association, Rev. O. W. Stuart. Evening—7:00, Devotional service, Rev. Mr. Holman; 7:30, Address, Rev. O. W. Stuart. Rev. B. P. Browne was on the program but was unable to be present. Over a hundred people were in attendance during the morning and afternoon and 150 attended the evening service. Special music was furnished by the choir in the evening. The church was decorated with beautiful dahlias and fall flowers. In the Knights of Pythias hall the ladies of the church served a bountiful dinner and supper to the out of town guests.

Miss Rosamond Wilson is in the Knox Hospital for treatment. Miss Doris Ellis is in the Bangor hospital. The many friends of Miss Ellis and Miss Wilson hope for their speedy recovery.

Miss Abbott, who has been a guest of Mrs. Alice Marshall, has returned to her home in Auburn.

Mrs. Louise Marshall has returned spending the summer with her brother, Newell Marshall.

Mrs. Lena Tibbets of Beachmont, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sorenson of Everett, Mass., are guests of Capt. Hebert Ellwell.

News has been received of the sudden death of Bishop Whitehead, which took place at his home in Pittsburgh. Mr. Whitehead has been a visitor here several seasons with his daughter, who has a cottage on the back shore.

Quick and easy to install, burns anything. The Glenwood Single-Pipe makes heating easy

IF you phoned to us today you could have a Glenwood Single-Pipe Heating System completely installed the day after tomorrow. In most cases two men can put it in complete in a single day.

That would put an end to your fuel troubles for the rest of the winter. For you can burn any kind of fuel in this modern heater—wood, coal, soft coal, coke and even rubbish.

The feed doors of the Glenwood Single-Pipe are made extra wide. You can use large logs. The new wood grate will keep them burning night and day—just like a coal fire.

A Glenwood makes the most of every ounce of fuel. It sends the heat where you want it—not down cellar, through the walls and up the chimney.

Ask us for particulars. We can save fuel for you this winter.

Pipe models of this same furnace may be had in several sizes for coal or wood.

PARK THEATRE

When it came to finding a village to represent the mythical "Panamint," a mining town locale for Jack Holt's latest Paramount picture, "White Satan Sleeps," showing at the Park Theatre Wednesday, the location department at the Paramount studio in California was in a quandary. The scenario called for a California village of the B. P. (Before Prohibition) type and a hundred miles from water; that is, on the edge of the desert. So there was nothing else to do but hunt out an old time village that has long since gone to decay and rebuild it.

The "Panamint" described in Peter B. Kyn's story, "The Parson of Panamint," from which the picture was built, was one of the largest villages that has been constructed by Paramount in a long time. It consisted of twenty buildings, including a hotel, butcher shop, assay office, sheriff's office, a furniture store, bank, general store, drug shop, rectory and dwellings. The village occupied three acres of ground and was so constructed as to take a 465 foot camera shot, which in motion picture parlance is a "long shot." In making the scenes Joseph Henbury, the director, used more than five hundred persons.

The Thursday offering is the picture everybody is waiting for, "Turn to the Right." It has been played on the Park stage; now see it in picture.—adv.

FOUND IN WALDOBORO

Missing Belfast Girl Was At the Home Of Allen Roy Creamer

Miss Marian Hughes, 14 years old, a Belfast girl who had been missing for a week, was found in Waldoboro, and taken to Belfast Thursday. She was taken before Judge Clyde R. Chapman of Belfast Municipal court. It is hardly thought that young Creamer had anything to do with the girl's running away, but he knew that she had been talking of doing it, and gave her $6, but the officials think that he did not know that she intended to go last Thursday night. His case was continued for one month, but the girl was taken to the State School at Hallowell by Chief of Police Knowlton. She gave that as her reason for running away that she did not want to be sent to the school, as she had heard that that was what her mother intended to do with her. She said she stayed the first night at a hotel in Rockland, having had an automobile ride a part of the way from Belfast.

WALDOBORO

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Maxim of Winthrop were recent guests of J. H. Miller and Walter Kuhn. Edward Clark has returned from Laconia, N. H. Mrs. Everett Morse was in Rockland last week. Stanley Bailey is at home for a vacation. Forrest Bond and J. H. Miller attended the races at Montville. Mr. Bond's horse, Maine Time, won first money. The Rehoboth picnic was postponed last week on account of the bad weather. Gordon Hodgkins, Mrs. J. H. Miller, Mrs. Donna Perry and Miss Bertha Bowman were in Rockland to see Wood and Sand Friday night. Carroll T. Conroy and family and Russell Conroy and family, who have been at Glenhurst for the summer, returned to New York Sunday night. Waldoboro High baseball team and Union High team played an exciting game here Saturday afternoon. The score was 5 to 3 in favor of Waldoboro. H. I. Engley has accepted a position with Geo. Bridge & Sons of Haverhill, Conn. He is located in Livermore Falls, but will later go to Connecticut for the winter. Harold K. Smith was in Wisconsin Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. John M. Richards, Miss Beverly Richards, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Storer, Miss Sarah Storer and Miss Lash spent the week end at Martin's Point. As a party of young ladies were returning from Rockland last week they had a most uncomfortable experience. A car was drawn up on the side of the road directly in their path. One of the three men who were occupants of the car ran into the road and beckoned them to stop. As the driver slowed down the man sprang upon the running board, shouting some

BALTIMORE ADVERTISING MAN WORRIED ABOUT DAUGHTER

Son of New England Druggist Gave Advice

Baltimore (Md.)—W. H. Benson of Winner Avenue has had considerable worry about his daughter. For over a year he was kept in anxiety, but it seems from these following letters that he and his daughter are both worry-free now.

Mr. Benson wrote to the Dr. J. F. True & Co. of Auburn, Me.: "I have a daughter who has been failing in health and losing flesh for about eighteen months. She continued to go down hill and now balances the scales at seventy-four pounds; she weighed about one hundred and forty pounds. I was told by the son of a former druggist of Lewiston, Me., Mr. Garcelon, that you (Dr. True's Elixir) might be able to help."

Eventually Mr. Benson received a bottle of New England's famous laxative—Dr. True's Elixir. For results read Mr. Benson's reply: "I have been talking about your Dr. True's Elixir. It is great stuff! The Elixir is doing good work for my daughter; please send two bottles. Yours for health, W. H. Benson."

Scores and scores of such letters show us that Dr. True's Elixir has been most successful for use in relieving constipation.

Watch these symptoms: Constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, cramps, eyes heavy and dull, bad breath, all gone feeling, headaches. They may lead to more serious conditions—bad colds, grippe, etc. To ward off or make an attack light, take Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller.

Whether child or adult, you can use Dr. True's Elixir to advantage. Pleasant to take, mild in action, no harmful drugs. The herbs used in its preparation are imported and of strictly pure quality.

Safeguard your children from disordered bowels—give Dr. True's Elixir, remembering that it has over seventy years' reputation back of it. To better enjoy yourself, good health is essential. The intestinal tract should be kept properly cleansed by using Dr. True's Elixir. It makes you more fit for life's work, buys up and gives new spirit. 40c, 60c, 1.20.

Last week Miss Claire E. Herrick, Home Demonstration Agent of the Knox and Lincoln County Farm Bureau, gave a demonstration of individual dress form construction to ten ladies in the Wessaweske Grange hall. Four forms were completed and a class instructed so as to make possible the construction of more forms should there be others who wish one. Anyone may have one made by communicating with Mrs. Bertha Holbrook who was appointed chairman of the local branch by Miss Herrick. Officers in addition to Mrs. Holbrook are as follows: Secretary, Mrs. Bernice Sleeper; Food Leader, Mrs. Lulu Allen; Clothing Leader, Mrs. Rebecca Thorndyke; and Millinery Leader, Mrs. Jeanne Morgan.

A committee meeting of the officers will be held Sept. 28 at the home of A. F. Sleeper. This meeting is for the purpose of making plans for the ensuing year and it is very important that every officer attend. At the same time Mrs. Wentworth, County Agricultural Agent, desires to meet the men's committee.

FRIENDSHIP

Burnham-Collamore

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Van Buren Collamore was the scene of a very pretty wedding Friday evening when their youngest daughter, Eula Marion, was united in marriage to Fred Burnham of Thomaston. The bride was being comelyly attired in a canton crepe dress with necklace of pearls. Elder Samuel Clark, pastor of the Christian Advent church, performed the ceremony. Refreshments were served by the bride's nieces, Wilma and Lorna Cushman. Mr. Burnham is one of Thomaston's enterprising young men and has a fine World War record. He enlisted in Co. I of Concord, 6th Massachusetts Infantry, which later became a part of the 104th Infantry, the first regiment ever to be decorated by a foreign government. He took an active part in the following battles, engagements, skirmishes and expeditions: Chemin des dames Sector, Feb. 8-March 20, 1918; Toul Sector, April 1-June 14, 1918; Meuse-Argonne offensive, Oct. 14-Nov. 11, 1918.

Mrs. Burnham is one of Friendship's popular young ladies. She was an active member of the Advent church, and a host of friends wish her new home in Thomaston. They will reside at 8 Green street.

BUYS A FARM

Housewarming Proves An Enjoyable Event To Invited Guests.

Charles A. Simmons of Warren, who has recently purchased a farm of 100 acres, comprising more than ninety acres, located in Union and Waldo, celebrated the event Sunday, by inviting friends to pass the day at the old farm house, which is situated in one of the most charming localities to be imagined. He has correctly named it "Tip Top Farm," from the fact that it overlooks the surrounding country for miles, mountains in Washington, Liberty and Camden being visible in the distance, as well as the White Mountains on a clear day. The old house is comfortably furnished throughout, which was an important factor to the purchaser, and the buildings are in good repair and contain numerous old-fashioned relics. Six automobiles and several other conveniences landed the party safely, including the following: Mrs. Sarah Barlow, Myrtle S. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. E. John Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Simmons, Roland D. Berry, A. W. Fowles, Everett S. Cummings, N. C. Crawford, Miss Inez Buxton, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Simmons, Philip Simmons, Warren; Blanche C. Hill, Augusta; Mrs. Elizabeth Hill and Master William Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Jameson, Mrs. Clayton Beane and daughter, Margaret, Union; Mr. and Mrs. Glenwood E. Ross, Fitchburg, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Earle Ludwick, son Crosby and daughter Marion, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Orbeton, Rockland.

It was a beautiful day, and a stroll over the broad acres proved well worth while for the men, while the ladies were busy preparing viands for the long tables in the large kitchen and living room. When all was in readiness, a horn of lusty tone called scattered members of the party, and to say that the inner man was satisfied is putting it mildly. The menu included everything that could be desired, as well as a large quantity of fresh corn from the garden, cake and all the finishing touches. The hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Simmons and their able corps of assistants will not soon be forgotten by the visitors. Could the early settlers of the old homestead (who have long since passed away) have witnessed the scene, they would hardly have believed their own eyes.

Mr. Simmons plans to make many improvements and already has a crew of men chopping wood and clearing away underbrush. His time during the summer will be divided between his hostelry and other business in Warren, and the newly acquired property. He already has plans underway, whereby it cannot fail to prove a profitable investment.

UNION

Our quiet little village was aroused by the cry of fire Thursday morning and it was found that Herbert Tibbets' blacksmith shop was in flames with no possible show of saving anything in the building. This removes an old landmark that will be greatly missed. The structure was built more than a hundred years ago, as a school house, from which many prominent men of the United States have gotten their education and start in life. We understand that Mr. Tibbets will rebuild the structure on the same site.

The Cemetery Association are expecting the new fence any day now and would be very grateful to all who have subscribed if they will kindly send their contributions with John Williams at the Bank.

In Social Circles

The arrival and departure of guests during the vacation season is of interest both to them and their friends. We are glad to print such items of social news and will think our friends to supply us with information in this connection.

TELEPHONE 1770
Capt. Israel Snow, Misses Carolyn and Alice Evershine, Miss Evelyn Young, Misses Kathleen Snow and Francis motored to Guilford Saturday for a visit with Mrs. Hugo Cross. They plan to return today.

Mrs. and Mrs. A. C. Jones spent the weekend with friends in Portland and Boston.

Mrs. Herbert Bowen and son Richard returned to Portland Sunday night having spent the week with their aunt, Miss Hattie Bowen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Howard arrived the last of the week from Jacksonville, where they have been making an extended stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Foley, Mrs. Karl O'Brien and other guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rupert Wing of Bath dined at Wessaweskeag Inn Sunday. Mr. Wing will be remembered in Rockland as belonging to the Bath polo team which played several times in Rockland last winter. He told The Courier-Gazette reporter that there are good prospects of Bath having a skating rink this season—which means of course that Bath will be strictly in the game.

Mrs. Harmon Davis and daughter, Miss Evelyn Davis are in New York on a business trip, from which they will return Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Q. Tyler and Hector Brown Tyler of Belmont, Mass., arrived Saturday for a short visit. Upon their return they will be joined by Mrs. H. B. Tyler and children, who have been spending the summer in Castine.

Miss Gladys Bowen, after spending the vacation at Point Lookout, has returned to Rockland to finish her schooling. She is making her home with her aunt at 112 North Main street.

Miss Blanche Margee is spending her vacation in Portland.

The Country Club opened the winter social season with a dance Friday night at 7.30. On the committee are Mrs. Elmer C. Davis chairman, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Knowlton, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Leighton, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rhodes and Mrs. E. M. O'Neil.

Mrs. Mary Perry Rich of Glen Cove attended the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs in Dover-Foxcroft, and as chairman of the Club Extension committee, presented its report, advocating intensive work for Citizenship Clubs. Nine new clubs with several hundred members federated. A delightful reception at the residence of Mrs. Edward Mayo, an address on "New Education for Women," by Dr. C. C. Little, president of U. of M., Orono, and an automobile tour given by citizens of the hostess city, including a pilgrimage to the birthplace of Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, were outstanding features of this annual convention which commemorated by a banquet the thirtieth birthday of the Federation's founding. Maine formed the first State Federation. These are now organized in every State and the General Federation numbers 2,500,000 members.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson of West Palm Beach, Fla., entertained at dinner Sunday at their cottage at Cooper's Beach Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coombs and family and Miss Annie Smalley of Belfast, Mr. and Mrs. Orel Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Thorndike, Miss Llewella Thorndike, Mrs. F. L. Green and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Smith and Kenneth Mills.

Mrs. O. N. Blackington of Augusta is stopping at the home of her nephew, L. E. Blackington, Masonic street.

Capt. J. F. Gregory is on his annual vacation, part of which will be spent with his son, Seabrook W. Gregory in Hartford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fitch and children of Waterville and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fitch of Waldoboro motored here Saturday and called on friends.

Miss Helen York, who has pleasantly spent her vacation in this city and at Monhegan, returned to Portland yesterday.

Mrs. R. I. Thompson and daughter, Miss Helen Thompson, return today from a motor trip to Portland.

Mrs. Ernest H. Perry, who has been spending the latter part of the summer at her former home in Rockville, returned to Lewiston today, accompanied by her husband, who has spent the past fortnight there; and by her mother, Mrs. Helen Oxtun, who will make an extended stay with the Perrys.

Mrs. F. I. Shattuck and Mrs. F. S. Collamore were registered at the Congress Square Hotel in Portland last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shaw of Portland spent the weekend in this city. They came by motor, bringing Parker F. Norcross from Portland for a short stay here and departed in the other direction with Louis Rosenbloom who started a weekly business trip over the State from Portland Monday.

Miss Carrie Fields, Miss Dorothy Holbrook, Miss Mildred Tuttle, Miss Osella Brewster, Miss Clara Tuttle and Miss H. E. Lamb were entertained at dinner aboard the U. S. S. Putnam in the harbor Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur A. Pressey of Cambridge, Mass., are visiting their former home in this city, guests this week at the Thorndike Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stevens and child have arrived from Massachusetts for a visit at Mr. Stevens' former home in this city.

Emily Hussey is very ill at her home, 19 Weeks street, with pneumonia.

Eloise R. Williams celebrated her first birthday Monday at 137 South Main street having five little guests. A birthday cake made by the Consolidated Baking Co. with one candle, decorated the dining room table. Eloise received several fine presents. She proved herself an ideal hostess. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Williams.

Mrs. William Pratt will leave this week for Utica, N. Y., and Springfield.

Mrs. Ruth Sleeper Till, after spending the summer months in this locality, leaves this noon for her home in Malden. She is to be accompanied by Mrs. Horace E. Lamb.

Mrs. E. M. Albee and daughter and George Barclay of Detroit, Mich., and Miss Craig of Newark, N. J., were weekend guests of Mrs. George W. Foster, Cedar Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Robbins of Bangor are enjoying the autumn days at the E. K. Winchenbach cottage, Crescent Beach.

Dr. William Ellingwood and family, accompanied by Mrs. Ellingwood's mother, Mrs. Kellum, motored to Boston Sunday. The Ellingwoods returned Monday, and Mrs. Kellum proceeded to Chicago to visit her son, after which she leaves for her home in Virginia for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Creamer of Washington were in the city last week.

Lewis Brown of North Haven is visiting in the city.

Dr. Ernest Young and son Ernest returned to Boston Thursday.

Mrs. Willard Chapin of 13 State street is recovering from a serious operation performed at Knox Hospital recently.

A. Ross Weeks and Miss Georgina Weeks, who have spent the summer at their cottage, Dynamite Beach, returned to their home on Highland street Monday.

Miss Blanche Margee has returned after a visit of a few days in Portland, at the home of Mrs. E. C. White.

Mrs. Walter Quinn, who has been visiting her son G. L. Quinn, Rankin street, has returned to North Haven.

James McManus of Cambridgeport, Mass., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Munro.

M. C. Kay spent the weekend in Bath. He is planning to make Rockland his permanent place of residence.

M. I. Furbish and daughter, Miss Miriam Furbish, of North Attleboro, Mass., were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Spear.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Robinson attended a family gathering in Warren Sunday, given to celebrate the 15th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest E. Spear. Fifteen guests sat down to the delicious chicken dinner which featured the day's festivities. Mrs. Spear was formerly Miss Grace Robinson.

On his return from Boston Saturday H. N. McDougall paid a visit to Abbott Academy, which his daughters Evelyn and Frances have just entered. He found them very much pleased with their new surroundings, but very insistent upon the latest news from home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Whitney leave next Monday for Fruitland Park, Fla., where they will spend the winter. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Reynolds of Vinahaven.

Many inquiries are being made daily concerning three well known Rockland men—Fred J. Simonton, William W. Spear and Clayton E. Gilley—whose condition is such as to give considerable concern. Mr. Spear is on the seventh week of an illness which developed into typhoid fever. Mr. Simonton suffered a relapse after having made surprising recovery from a very critical illness. Mr. Gilley's sickness came on very suddenly, and is of a serious character.

THE PRATTLER

CVV.

We have just been assisting in what we consider the most unpleasant, the most thankless, the most hazardous task that could possibly be undertaken by a human being, namely, deciding upon the handicaps by which members of the Country Club will compete for the silver cup offered each year to the winner of the championship tournament. Those who do not play golf do not know the trials faced by handicappers, and what is more they probably do not care two whoops about it. For their benefit, we hereby promise to start off a column on croquet or something like that in the near future, to partially atone for the following tirade on golf. Having completed our duties with reference to making up the handicaps, we are weary, weak, sick at heart and fully aware of the furor that our perfectly sincere attempts at fair play will doubtless evoke among the golfing members of the club. We do not think we have ever encountered a man who was perfectly satisfied with his handicap. The other fellow's is invariably too large and his is absurdly small, is the attitude that somewhere around 59 golfers out of 100 assume.

The question of handicaps presents a phase of psychology that would form exceedingly interesting material to track down. The average man is not a self-deprecative individual. Close analysis would probably divulge considerable egotism in the makeup of the average man under ordinary conditions. In fact he is rather proud of his attainments, particularly with reference to his golf, and does not let many opportunities slip by to convey these facts to the world in general. "How that little old ball did rise! And do you know, when I got there it was sitting right up, pretty as you please, within a foot of the pin! All luck, of course, but it wouldn't have been there if the ball hadn't been hit properly! Perfect pitch! Oh, that little ball is going like a whirlwind this year. Yes, birdie three; not too bad for a bum player like myself! Say, I'm getting so I can roll 'em up with that little mashie almost any old time! And so on ad infinitum, until his family and his friends agree that he is a terrific bore and a hopeless egotist.

All that under ordinary conditions; but when it is time for the handicaps to be made up, it is truly amazing to note what modest and meek individuals golfers have suddenly become. Their drives have been going wrong all summer. That 38 was the luckiest stab in the world and they probably never would get another one. Sixteen for them was positively ridiculous. They couldn't give that many strokes to Suchandsuch. Why, they hadn't ever beaten him in his life. If Soandso was going to get that much handicap, they certainly ought to get as much. They had been playing with Soandso all summer and he had often beaten them. Why, that is absolutely absurd! Who is on this handicap committee, anyway? Such is the trend of sentiment around a golf club when time for making up the handicaps is at hand. Conceit and egotism disappear as though by magic; past accomplishments are modified and made attributable to Lady Luck. Modesty, meekness, reticence and expectancy prevail.

And so we have just assisted in making up the annual handicaps, and as we said before, are weary, weak, sick at heart and fully aware of what may be before us. If somebody should come up to our bedside, to which we shall doubtless be confined before this tournament is over, and inquire as to just how these handicaps are made up, we would reply promptly, "With fear and trembling, my son, and with silent prayer."

The following poem has not the slightest bearing upon golf, but that is the reason we are including it, because we realize how stupid the subject of golf must be to all those unaffected by the malady. It is from "Poems and Portraits" by Don Miquis, one of "those delightfully compounded poems of acid."

If you're so weak as to remark, "Miss Pringle, The day is fine," why, Miss Pringle laughs; At all the words of men Miss Pringle laughs. If you should say, "There's Central Park, Miss Pringle," Or else, "I'm bitten by a shark Miss Pringle," Or else, "Twice five is ten," "Miss Pringle laughs; Shrill as a guinea-hen, Miss Pringle laughs; Or else, "When I said, 'This dark, Miss Pringle," At first I thought, "Poor pretty little girl! Some nervous malady has seized her mind; Her throat, no doubt, is always on the verge, 'Just as his twitchy nose pertains a rabbit." And then I saw her teeth, white, even, small. She has fine teeth, and nothing else at all.

THE PEARL OF GOOSENECK REACH ON
Life and Youth and Love

"Oh, you won't have to worry about not bringing along your pocket watch, old timer," said one of the officers. "I've got one I can lend you and it hasn't been used more than three times."

"Well, well, well!" muttered old Cappy Jose. "So this here thing is one of them styanples 'is heard tell so much about? Eh, heh! heh! What I won't be able to tell all the folks down to Gooseneck Reach!"

The great levathan of the winds lunged on. The old sea faring man looked out into the black mysteries of the night. He knew not what fate had in store for him. Soon he approved one of the crew.

"Quite a lallapaluzza of a storm we had, wa'n't it, son," he said by way of making conversation.

Chapter XXXVII

Jerry was thunderstruck at the radio news he received in the little cabin tucked away from the winds of Gooseneck Reach. He fell back, practically in a dead swoon. Not quite, however, and he soon picked up the receivers again.

"Don't tell me that," he said, laboring under the stress of powerful emotions, "don't tell me that a seaplane is falling over the Lone Tree Club in New York this minute and in flames! Oh, oh, what an honest chap do!"

Chapter XXXVIII

Lady Betty and a companion stood on the roof of Lone Tree Club in bold outline against a murky sky. The hissing sound they had heard increased in volume until it became a rushing roar. The sky was suddenly illuminated as from some phenomenal meteor or flash. Lady Betty's beautiful eyes opened wide in wonder. Above the rushing roar there was a woman's scream.

ROCKPORT

Rockland District Association of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet Thursday, Sept. 28, at the M. E. church, Rockport. Afternoon meeting at 2:30; evening at 7. Picnic supper served; those coming from out of town bring sweet food.

Mrs. Harold Spear has returned from Lawrence, Mass., where she has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Landon Hyde.

The District meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will be held Thursday afternoon and evening at the Methodist church.

There was a seaplane in our harbor Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. R. A. Burns is attending Bates College at Lewiston.

The kindergarten department of the Baptist Sunday school will have a social and candy sale at the vestry Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. S. H. Wall, who has been quite ill, is convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Magune and daughter, Dorothy, of Rockland were guests of Capt. and Mrs. F. A. Magune Sunday.

Rodney Sylvester has gone to Camden, N. J., to join Cyrus H. K. Curtis' yacht Lyndonia.

Mrs. Carrie Davis of Rockland was calling on friends in town Friday.

Mrs. Clementia J. Richards and daughter, Miss Annie Richards have been guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Thurston in Newfield. Miss Richards is now visiting friends in Hyde Park, Mass.

Miss Vina Coffin left this morning for Medford, Mass., where she will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis Grotton of Rockland were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Grotton Sunday.

Mrs. Everett Pitts, who has been spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. S. Josephine Wall, returned Sunday to New Orleans.

The faculty of the Church Vacation School enjoyed a party at the Moody Parsonage Monday evening. Refreshments were served.

Miss Beulah Welt returned Saturday from Boston, where she has been visiting relatives.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church will have their circle Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock instead of Thursday this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Roberts were guests of friends in Wadoboro Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colby have returned from Belfast, where they have been spending several days.

The class of 1923 of the Grammar School held its class meeting Friday. The following officers were elected: President, Helen Crockett; Vice Pres., Gwendolyn Morrill; Secretary and Treasurer, Raymond Payson; Housekeepers, Helen Crockett, Katherine Ricker, Dorothy Field; Marshal, Cora Robbins. The class colors are blue and gold.

Miss Ellen A. Cain, widow of the late Robert Cain, died Saturday, Sept. 23, at her home after an illness of several months. She was born in Penobscot, July 20, 1851, and was the daughter of the late Charles and Phoebe (Staples) Montgomery. Mrs. Cain has for many years been a resident of Rockport and was well known and beloved by a large circle of friends. In her home life she was kind and devoted to her family and always interested in whatever pertained to the welfare and happiness of her children who in turn left nothing undone that would add to her comfort. There is sickness and distress found in her a kind and sympathetic friend. She was a member of the Methodist church, the Fred A. Norwood Relief Corps and the Pythian Sisters. She is survived by two daughters and two sons, Misses Ida and Elita Cain Irving and Edward Cain, and a young grandson of whom she was very fond, Robert Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cain, all of Rockport. She also leaves two half sisters, Mrs. Cecelia Cain and Mrs. Edwin Simmons of Rockport, and a half brother, Corydon S. York of Taunton, Mass. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late residence, Rev. A. F. Leigh of the Methodist church officiating. The Fred A. Norwood Relief Corps of which the deceased had for many years been a member, will perform their impressive burial service. Interment will be in the family lot in Ambury Hill cemetery.

A very pleasant gathering was held at the Baptist vestry Friday evening in connection with Rally Day, which was observed by the Sunday School last Sunday. The Friday evening exercises were preceded by a supper at 6:30 which was served to the adult classes of the school and was followed by an interesting program which was in charge of Miss Helen Dunbar, Superintendent. The topics assigned and spoken upon were as follows: Organization, Mrs. Andrew Young; Enrollment, Miss Helen Dunbar; Advertising, Miss Vina Coffin; Equipment, Mrs. A. C. Moore; Our Working Force, Mrs. Mabel Crono; Evangelism, Rev. Andrew Young; Summer Plans, Miss Hazel Lane; Finance, Deacon Arthur K. Walker. The address of the evening was given by Rev. O. W. Stuart, pastor of the Littlefield Memorial Church, Rockland, and was much enjoyed. A solo by Miss Dorothy Robinson and the spirited singing of hymns, with Miss Clara Walker pianist, were pleasing numbers on the program. The services on Sunday were largely attended and at the morning service the pastor preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion. Miss Dorothy Robinson sang a solo very sweetly. At the Sunday School hour the kindergarten, primary and intermediate departments gave an interesting program. Miss Helen Clancy and Miss Margaret Upham's classes had a full attendance. Their names were: Ellen Cross, Fernie Whitney, Cora Whitney, Edith Wall, Ruth Upham, Effie Crockett, Ruth Carlton, Theresa Ingersoll, Elsie Hendricks and Katherine Newhall.
